WOULD GIVE FEE OFFICIALS RAISE

Committee Approves Bill Which Amends The West Law

EQUALIZE EARNINGS

County Officials Would Get Double Increase Over City Men Through Proposed Measure.

Richmond, Feb. 3.—Favorable reports were made last night by the House Finance Committee on two bills affecting the compensation of county and city fee officers. This action followed a lengthy executive session, which came after several public hearings.

The first bill reported out was an amendment to the West fee law, the effect of which is to place county fee officers on the same basis as city officers, and at the same time increases the maximum for all officers $1,000 above the present maximum for city officers.

As reported out, the proposed amendment is a consolidation of several proposals offered in the House and referred to the Finance Committee. These proposals were submitted to a special subcommittee, headed by Delegate N elson S. Groome, of Hampton, which, out of the mass, compiled a single measure, which it submitted with a favorable report.

The effect of the proposed amendment will be to give a double increase to those county officials whose fees now are in excess of the maximum allowed under the West bill, with but the single increase to the city officials. Potential earnings of both are equalized under the amendment.

The second bill reported out with the committee's recommendation for adoption, restores old rates of compensation to county treasurers received prior to the adoption of the new Code, which reduced commissions on certain collections and disbursements.

Under the old law, which it is proposed to restore, the county treasurers received 5 per cent on the first $25,000 of each of three separate funds, State, school and Board of Supervisors, and 3 1-2 per cent on all in excess. The new Code consolidated the school and Board of Supervisors funds, making $50,000 the maximum sum on which to compute the 5 per cent fee. instead of $75,000 as in the past. The patron of the proposed bill is Delegate R. H. Willis, of Roanoke City.

DRY LAW BEING OBEYED

Prohibition Chief Satisfied With Result of First Two Weeks

Washington, Feb. 3.—Taking the country as a whole, officials of the Internal Revenue Bureau expressed satisfaction yesterday with the results of the work of the department during the last two weeks in enforcing constitutional prohibition.

Officers of the enforcement division, including Prohibition Commissioner John F. Kramer, declared that there was no question that the Government already has uprooted the liquor traffic in a permanent fashion and that within a reasonable time it will be able to gain complete control over the illicit distilling that still obtains in scattered sections of the country and will be able to reduce to a minimum the smuggling that it now going on across the Canadian and Mexican borders and from Cuba.

So far as bootlegging is concerned the department readily admits that its greatest aid has come from the tragic experiences which the country has witnessed in the recent cases of dood alcohol poisoning.

Brief as the experience of enforcement has been, the officials are convinced that there is an overwhelming majority sentiment on the part of the American people in favor of enforcement; and that with few exceptions local authorities generally are disposed to accord the Federal authorities full co operation. Ultimately, even in the wet centers, the Treasury agents believe this co-operation will be absolute.

In this connection it is stated that even in the "wettest" cities of the country there has been little difficulty in enforcing the constitutional amendment so far as the American element in the population is concerned. On the other hand it is admitted that among the aliens resistance is being encount red

SPORTS

The Lyceums defeated the 5th Engineers last night at the Armory in a City Basketball League Contest, 42 to 12, before a good sized crowd. The Maroon and White lads outplayed the soldiers at every hand.

"Slim" Hinken came back in approved big league style, the elongated center of the Lyceums shooting six baskets during the evening melee. His work was the most remarkable on the floor. Several times he reached up and tossed the ball through the net.

Bill Entwistle and Williams scored well, the former counting eight baskets while the latter counted five. Rosy Hayden's defensive work was easily the feature of the Lyceum's playing.

CITIZENS ORGANIZE AN ASSOCIATION

F. Clinton Knight Chosen President of Organization

MEET NEXT MONDAY

Purpose is to Promote General Welfare of City.—Two Candidates For Mayorality Present.

A Citizens' Association was organized last night at a meeting of citizens held in Odd Fellows' Hall. An organization was effected with the election of these officers:

F. Clinton Knight, president; J. T. Luckett, secretary; F. T. Quinn, treasurer, and an executive committee composed of eight, two from each ward in the city, will be announced at the next meeting of the association which will be held at the same place next Monday night.

The association was called to order by Lambert D. Sullivan who stated that its object is to promote the general welfare of the city and cooperate with the various other organizations in the city. Pratically all are organized except the citizens he declared.

J. T. Luckett stated that the question of forming such an organization had its birth January 12 at the Pythian Hall. Its purpose he explained was not to antagonize any organization. This he said is a day of organization. The speaker referred to the fact that although 200 invitations had been set out only a small proportion responded. He, however. expressed hope that the future meetings would be more largely attended.

There was a general interchange of opinion among those present on how the association could secure results from city council whereas it would be almost impossible otherwise to have things attended to by an individual and it was further pointed out that similar associations elsewhere accomplish much good for the general betterment of a city.

During the evening short addresses were made by Lambert D. Sullivan J. T. Luckett, F. W. Deeton, M. T. Dwyer, W. E. Bowen, F. T. Quinn Ashby Bladen, James M. Duncan, D R. Stansbury. Prior to the election of officers Ashby Bladen was chosen temporary chairman.

Mr. Knight stated that many persons criticise city council, and as a result those elected to office hesitate as to what course to pursue. The purpose of the association he said is to form ideas for city council to work on.

Among those present at the meeting were Albert Bryan and J. M. Duncan, candidates for the office of mayor.

GILPIN BILL IS SET AS SPECIAL ORDER

Long Debate is Forecast in Effort to Abolish Dr. Peters' Office

SHOWDOWN IS SOUGHT

Culpeper County Delegate Asks Evidence of Activities of Prohibition Inspectors.

Richmond, Feb. 3.—Consideration of the Gilpin bill, providing for abolition of the State Prohibition Department, was yesterday set as a special and continuing order for 12.30 o'clock Thursday in the House.

This action, which was taken on motion of the patron of the bill, means that the measure will have precedence over everything else on the date set for a hearing and, inasmuch as argument both for and against abolition of the office probably will be lengthy, the lower branch is expected to concern itself with little else on Thursday.

Prohibition Commissioner Peters will be called upon to render an account to the General Assembly of automobiles and liquor confiscated by his department and of prosecutions of violators of the Mapp law resulting from the activities of his agents and deputies, if a resolution offered in the House yesterday by Major Gibson, of Culpeper, is adopted. The measure, in the language of those in the lower branch who have discussed this latest development in the fight against the Prohibition Department calls for a general showdown.

The last annual report of the Prohibition Commissioner, covering the year ending October 31, 1919, places the value of confiscated automobiles at $10,000. Fines, aggregating $135,849.98, including confiscated liquor sold, also are show in the report.

The resolution introduced by Major Gibson calls upon the Prohibition Commissioner to show what part his department took in the proceedings for confiscation of vehicles sold and what sum was realized from the sale of such vehicles through the efforts of county, city and town authorities

The report further shows 10,500 gallons of ardent spirits confiscated. The Gibson resolution would require Commissioner Peters to tell the General Assembly what part of the liquor was seized wholly by officers of the Prohibition Department, what part wholly by local officers and what part by joint action.

He also will be requested to inform the lawmakers what part of the fines imposed resulted from arrests by his agents and inspectors, what part from the energies of local officers and what part as a result of joint action.

The resolution also would determine the number of cases in which the attorneys of the Prohibition Department assisted in the prosecution together with the number of convictions and acquittals resulting from such prosecutions.

The commissioner is requested to furnish the desired information at his earliest convenience. The resolution was referred to the Committee on Moral and Social Welfare.

SUFFRAGE MEASURE IN LEGISLATURE

Those Opposed Confident Act Will be Defeated

MAPP TO FIGHT BILL

Each Side to Have Two and One-Half Hours to Present Claims Before State Senate.

Richmond, Feb. 3.—Limitation of debate to five hours, equally split between the opposing forces, is the program planned by patrons of the Leedy antisuffrage resolution, which comes before the Senate at 12.30 o'clock today. The resolution, which calls for the rejection of the proposed Susan B. Anthony amendment to the Federal Constitution, has been made a special and continuing order, and leaders of the opposing camps insist that direct action for or against the amendment will be taken.

Friends of the suffrage amendment are planning to fight the Leedy resolution to a finish, realizing that its adoption in the Senate will precipitate another fight on the floor of the House, where direct action was avoided last week by the passage of the Rew resolution calling for a Statewide suffrage referendum. Senator Mapp, who has been too ill for several days to occupy his seat, will be present today to lead the suffrage forces.

Senator Leedy, who is leading the fight for the rejection of the suffrage amendment, is confident that his amendment will go through without trouble today. Enough votes to insure the adoption of the resolution have been pledged, the Senator stated yesterday. There are eighteen signatures to the resolution of rejection, or just three less than the number required to carry it, providing the full Senate was present and voting.

It has been determined to force a time limit on the debate, and it is proposed to, give each side two and one half hours in which to present arguments.

IS A FOUR LEAF CLOVER LUCKY

This question asked last evening in an ad in the Gazette brings to mind the old supersition of the freak of the clover. How many of us have not at some time in our life searched among the fields for this rare token of luck. It is amusing to find men who disclaim any belief or superstition in the smiles of the goddess of luck. that they still carry and protect the frail little clover in purse or card case and there can hardly be presented any temptation to make them part with it. Maybe there is no such a thing as luck, good, bad or clover is a joke, but peculiar as it may seem, some of the men and women who have made the greatest success, carry the little token with them.

It may be the daintiness of the clover that attracts. It's greenness and freshness, or the purity of the four leaf member, whatever it is, whether a token of good or bad luck—we know of no one who has ever found one, who has not felt lucky. After all, luck is nothing but confidence, whether it is the "gamblers hunch" or whatever term may be applied to luck it is confidence, nothing else.

It is not surprising that successful men and women carry a four leaf clover, eliminating superstition, If one feels lucky they win—if the finding of the quadruple clover promotes that feeling of luck—as it unquestionably does. It is the foundation of confidence and this only needs a little cool thinking and some elbow grease to prove the clover is lucky.

UNWRITTEN WAR HISTORY

Many interesting incidents occur in all wars which fail to get into history. About twenty years ago a history of Virginia—supposed to have been compiled from a southern standpoint—embracing a history of the civil war, especialy the part played by Virginians in the Old Dominion—appeared. An attempt was made to have the book adopted by the public schools of Alexandria, but it was found that no reference what ever was made in the book to the capture of Alexandria by the federal troops May 24, 1861, nor to the dual tragedy at the Marshall House when James Jackson and Colonel Ellsworth were killed.

Early in the summer of 1861, shortly after the federal troops had occupied Alexandria, the steamer St, Nicholas, which ran on the route between Baltimore and Alexandria, left the former port. Among her passengers was what was supposed to have been a French lady, lavishly dressed and adorned with powder and rouge. When the St. Nicholas stopped at Point Lookout about a dozen strange men went aboard. Shortly after the steamer left the wharf the supposed French lady had undergone transition and instead of being of the feminine persuasion, it developed that the individual was a colonel of the Confederate army formerly in skirts. Several of the men who went aboard the steamer at Point Lookout appeared with him, and the party took posession of the pilot house, while others of the party captured the engine room.

A plan had been formulated to board and capture the United States gunboat Pawnee, then supposed to be somewhere in the river, and to run her into a southern port. The St. Nicholas ran down the bay a short distance where she made a landing and took on two companies of North Carolina soldiers. Returning to the Potomac a futile attempt was made to find the Pawnee Those in charge of the St. Nicholas were to pretend the steamer carried supplies and orders for the Pawnee, and being allowed to come alongside the North Carolinians were to suddenly dash aboard and take charge of the man-of-war.

After having spent several hours looking for the Pawnee the St. Nicholas turned and again started down the bay, where she captured two schooners, one loaded with coffee and the other with [illegible]. They were taken up the Rappahannock to Fredericksburg. The St. Nicholas was subsequently burned at the latter place.

This adventure caused considerable excitement at Alexandria at the time, and afterwards steamboats carried detachments of soldiers when they ran between Alexandria and Baltimore.

We have no recollection of having read the above in any history of the war between the States.

LOOK FOR DROP IN PRICES

In the course of a little while we may expect a check in the upward move of prices and perhaps a drop in prices. So says the Harvard University Committee of Economic Research, but unfortunately the "perhaps" sticks out of the sea of words with the persistence and the prominence of a sore finger. This Harvard body is probably the most distinguished organization of the many that have been trying to solve the high cost of living, and it may be said that the solemnity with which it has gone about the business is fully reflected in its present report. Its conclusions are based upon statistics. These show that the farmers will continue to prosper in 1920, and that their prosperity will make others equally so, and that presently we may expect a slight recession in prices. But, the learned gentlemen are careful to say, it would "be premature to conclude that a violent drop in commodity prices is probable."

As the Philadelphia Record says, it scarcely needed the warning of these eminent statisticians to make the average citizen skeptical about the probability of any immediate improvement in economic conditions, The day is bound to come when there will be a "check in the upward move," but when it comes it will be the result of natural causes. Chas. M. Schwab puts the whole problem in simple, understandable language when he says that the only way to decrease the cost of living is for everybody to get together and "get to work." He says that ordinarily the world each year consumes a large part of what it produces, and besides this saves a substantial amount which serves as the basis for greater productivity in future years. But "during the period of the war the world has consumed practically everything it produced, with the result that today shelves are bare in every store, and there is not enough of any of the necessities of life to go around."

Thus the solution lies w[illegible] omb

Thus the solution of the problem lies in the hands of the people. When more steel is manufactured, when more food is produced, when more clothes are made there will inevitably be a reduction in prices to the consumer. The only way to bring this about is to "get to work" and when all, or nearly all, of the people do this we may confidently look for that drop in prices—and without the tantalizing word "perhaps" to spoil the prospect.

CASUALTIES OF PEACE

Last year 80,000 were killed and 250,000 were seriously injured by accidents in the United States. That is about equal to our casualties in two years of war. It seems incredible, yet there is no denying the facts. The statistics are carefully compiled by the National Safety Council. If the victories of peace are no less renowned than those of war we are learning that the casualties of peace are no less numerous than those of war. It seems to be largely unnecessary. Where safety precautions have been adopted there has been a great falling off in accidents of all kinds. Carelessness lies at the basis of most accidents, not gross carelessness necessarily, but often merely lack of forethought, failure to take prudent precautions.

The work of the National Safety Council is to instill into the workers of the country—for the overwhelming majorities of accidents are industrial—the spirit of being cautious about everything, also to see that approved safety appliances are installed wherever work is done. Nothing can take the place of the personal factor. If accidents are to be diminished it must be through individual men and women taking more pains to prevent them.

The figures above should prove interesting to the thousands of mechanics and others employed in Alexandria at present.

WONDERS OF THE AGE

At the beginning of the last century the human tribes were moving or being moved in just about the same way as when David was King in Jerusalem or as when Belshazzar was King in Babylon. Which is to say in clumsy wheeled vehicles drawn by the horse, the mule or the ox. Through a period of 6,000 years there was practically no progress in the science of locomotion. But just consider the speedup of the past hundred years! If human progress were measured by this alone the record, when reviewed, is so wonderful that it bewilders the imagination.

Now the human tribes whose forbears plodded and creeped for more than 6,000 years cover the ground surface and shoot themselves through the air at a speed of two miles a minute!! And has the high speed limit been reduced? Has man yet touched the high score in the art of projecting himself over land space or through air space? Who can say about this? Who will presume to assert that human investigation and inventive genius have attained the potential limit in expedited land travel or in the safe and sure navigation of the air and the waters.

A hundred years ago the man who owned a watch—any kind of watch—was a distinguished personage. Twenty years ago the man who traveled in an automobile—any kind of automobile—was a distinguished personage. At the beginning of this year 1920 the man who owns a private flying machine is a distinguished personage. And in 1950 flying machines may be as common as talking machines today.—(Baltimore American.

REPUBLIC RECOGNIZED

Mexico has recognized the German republic, and has appointed Isidro Fabela as minister plenipotentiary, the State Department has been unofficially advised.

Editor, The Gazette:

According to the newspaper reports last week it would seem that but for the efforts of Demaine and Son, the undertakers, the body of the man killed by a railway train last Tuesday night would doubtless have been buried in Potter's Field at the expense of the taxpayers of the city, the police, apparently, having shown no interest whatever in the case. And yet the chief, in his annual "message" to the board of police commissioners, earnestly urges more pay for the police!

VIRGINIA NEWS

While hunting in Pittsylvania county last week Benjamin Jones, son of T. A. Jones, was accidentally shot and killed by his brother.

John Spillman, formerly a member of the Lexington police force, yesterday shot and killed P. H. Silvea during a dispute over a line fence. Spillman at once gave himself up and was committed to jail.

Mr. and Mrs. Allie Murray, the former 28 and the latter only 16 years of age, of Middlesex, N. C., were asphyxiated in the home of Mr. Murray's uncle, W. A. Murray, in Norfolk Saturday night. The bodies were discovered yesterday morning, when a member of the family went to call them for breakfast. Accidental suffocation was given by the coroner as the cause of death.

A decided falling off in the number of new cases of influenza reported to the Richmond health authorities was noticeable yesterday, when but 49 new cases were listed. There were 173 new cases reported Sunday and 389 on Saturday. The death toll to date for the year is ten.

Roanoke health officials yesterday reported 1,357 influenza patients in Roanoke to date, 42 pneumonia cases, and a "shortage of nurses." No deaths were recorded.

Fire Sunday night threatened destruction of Harrisonburg's city's new high school building, but was controlled after a two hour fight. The damage is estimated at $20,000 The blaze started in the furnace room.

TWO DEAD AND ONE DYING

Cleveland Police Think Triple Tragedy Occurred in City and Bodies Hauled Out

Cleveland, Feb. 2.—With two men dead and another believed mortally wounded, police were working on a double murder mystery revealed early Friday with the finding of two bodies in Pearl Road.

The theory is that the murders were committed in an automobile to the lonely spot where they were found. The third man, believed dead by the slayers, probably crawled away between the time the bodies were found by passersby who saw three bodies huddled together, and the time the police arrived on the scene. The murdered victims are believed to be Sylvester T. Russo, a designer and Michael Velazo, both of Buffalo, who started for Cleveland, Wednesday, Russo to open a studio.

GIRL BEATEN TO DEATH ..

Victim Found in Kneeling Posture With Her Head Crushed

New York, Feb. 3.—Beaten to death by a man who answered an advertisement offering a furnished room in her father's home, was the fate yesterday of pretty 17 year old Miss Rene Hoxie, according to the theory of the police, hurriedly summoned when the girl's body was discovered in a kneeling pocture, as if in prayer, but with her head crushed and mangled.

Evidences of a fearful struggle, first in the hallway, where the girl evidently was beaten until partially exhausted, and then in the bedroom, where with the strength of desperaiton she fought the intruder, were on every hand. Floor and bedclothes were smeared with blood. Furniture was overturned and the girl's clothing was much disheveled

The only description of Miss Hoxie's murderer furnished by the janitress of the building, was too vague to be of much value. She had admitted a man to look at the room advertised who was "dark complexioned and about 40 years old.

YOU NEVER CAN TAME A WILD CAT

Mr. Dodson Warns Against Use of Treacherous, Dangerous Calomel

Calomel salivates! It's mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with sour bile it crashes into it, causing cramping and nausea.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodsons Liver Tone you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It's harmless pleasant and safe to give to children: they like it.

Where Romance And Adventure Flourish Still

Travel by Land and Sea to the Picturesque Places of the World—Afforded by the United States Marine Corps.

"Sailing Orders"

If you're weary of the office
And your step has lost its snap.
If you're looking for a life that fits
A big two-fisted chap—
If you want to go a-roving
All this jolly old world round,
Come a-runnin', runnin', buddy,
When the bugle starts to sound.
For we've got our sailing orders.
And there's joy in all our hearts—
O' we're dropping down the river,
And it's hey for foreign parts!
It's hey for Guam and Haiti
And the beach at Wakaiki!
The Marines have got their orders,
And they're putting out to sea.
If you're tired of the factory
Or you're weary of the plow,
And you don't find any romance
In the job you're doing now,
Here's a chance to go a-roving
To the place Adventure's found,
So come a-runnin', buddy,
When you hear the bugles sound.
They're cheering from the ferries,
And they're waving from the shore
The dull old life's behind us
And the new life lies before.
We've off to make talk "howdy"
With the Moro and Chinee.
The Marines have got their orders,
And they're putting out to sea.

The young man who has not felt the call of the sea, who has never known the "wanderlust"—that restless hunger for the sight of strange foreign lands and stranger people—he does not exist. But how many men neglect their opportunities to grow old without ever having wandered very far from their own home towns.

What have such men gotten out of life? What have they to look back on but a monotonous round of uninteresting toil? How they must envy their more fortunate—or perhaps more daring—fellows who have traveled and seen and done—who have lived life to the full!

How the "stay-at-home" must regret his lack of enterprise, as he sits, one of an interested group, while some ex-Marine spins yarn after yarn (and true yarns they are, too) of his adventures on tossing seas and under tropic skies.

The Marine and the Wide World

At the moment you are reading this there is hardly a country on earth where there are not United States Marines, doing men's work—yes, and playing, too, as real men play—storing up health and memories that will last them to the end of the chapter.

There are Marines down in Cuba, picturesque old Cuba, almost as Spanish today as when the red and yellow flag of Spain floated over Morro Castle. In Haiti—the queer little republic, where the colored folks speak French, Marines are helping to slap bad little bandits on the wrist when they misbehave. That's life—life with just enough danger in it to make it worth the living.

There are Marines walking the streets of London and Paree. They are hearing real ukeleles on a real beach at Wakaiki. They are in the Phillippines and "somewhere east of Suez," where Mr. Kipling tell us "there ain't no ten commandments and a man can raise a thirst." Maybe it isn't as bad as that, but the Orient is mighty interesting.

Days of Real Sport

Any man who feels at home with a gun and a fishing rod was born to be a Marine. You see, a Marine lives on and near the water so much that he's web footed, and where there's salt water there are fish. And in tropical waters there are fish such as fish stories are made of—fish and turtles that would make a New York chef weep for joy.

And game! How would it be if this morning we had started on a hunting leave way up into China in search of deer or bear? Or suppose we were guarding Uncle Sam's big ditch at Panama and got leave to go out and pot a jaguar to make somebody a leopard skin coat?

Home Life of the Marines

No Marine ever seems to stay in one place long enough to get rusty. When he is not just off for foreign ports or just coming home from service abroad, he is on one of the big battleships which are always on the move from one port to another. Today he may be in Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, and the next bound for France or Constantinople, or goodness knows where.

And when he's on duty in the States he may be at any one of a number of interesting places—Quantico, the station just out of Washington; the League Island Navy Yard, at Philadelphia; the Brooklyn Navy Yard at New York; or he may be at San Diego, in sunny California, or Mare Island in San Francisco Bay.

Work Time for the Marine

The Marine's life is not all play. Theres work to be done. But it's a man's work and interesting.

There are short, snappy drills that teach a man to be on his toes. There are setting-up exercises that give a man a chest like a barrel. There are hikes, short ones at first and gradually increasing. that teach a man to walk on his own two feet, and like it. And there's rifle practice. But that isn't work—that's sport. There is wireless telegraphy and signal work to be learned. There is training in scouting and woodcraft. Maybe you didn't know that every Marine is a regular Robinson Crusoe when it comes to making himself comfortable in a wild country.

There is artillery practice and something of sailing, rowing and seamanship. For a Marine is a sailor as well as a soldier. But it's good work—all of it.

In addition to giving a man physical fitness and mental alertness, the Marine Corps gives plenty of opportunity for learning a trade that will mean big money for him after his discharge. Thousands of ex-Marines have immediately been taken into well-paying jobs in civil life as aviators, airplane mechanics, gas engine mechanics, chauffeurs, wireless operators, printers, barbers, ball players, chefs, bakers, electricians, foremen, etc., etc.

An honorable discharge after two three or four years' service in the Marines is the best letter of recommendation any man can have.

The Marine Corps wants only GOOD men, but they don't have to be giants, just ordinarily healthy. Don't say. "I can't pass the test." until you have tried. The doctors are kindly and courteous. Give them a chance to look you over. Send for booklet.

DOLLAR INSURANCE

Have you ever thought of your local merchants as business advisers? Have you ever realized that when you buy of them you get the benefit of their friendship and advice—that often times they can and will protect your purchases by telling you plain facts about merchandise?

When you buy out of town you usually deal with strangers who are interested chiefly in getting your money. True, they give you something for it; but if they would talk it over with you as freely as your local dealer does, there are many times when your purchase would be differently and more economically made.

Just think it over and give your local dealer a chance to be your friend. He'll thank you for the opportunity, and you will profit by it.

EAT FROZEN MEAT

German Workmen Couldn't Wait for Beef to be Unloaded From Steamer

New York, Feb. 3.—German workmen hacking frozen meat from sides of beef with hatchets and greedily eating it raw at Hamburg, was described by Capt. Adrian Zeeder, skipper of the American-Hamburg liner Manchuria, which docked here yesterday, completing the first round trip since the war of an American passenger vessel to a German port.

The men couldn't wait, in their hunger for meat, for the beef to be unloaded," said Capt. Zeeder. "They hacked off bits with hatchets and wolfed it down raw."

Eight days and nights were required to unload 5,000 tons of meat from the ship, an ordinary 48 hour job in New York, he said. This illustrates the reduction of vital force among German workmen.

"There were myriads of persons who would have filled the Manchuria many times over if they could have secured passports to come to America," he said.

WOULD SHOOT AGITATORS

Traitors to Nation and Must be Destroyed, Judge Landis Says

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 3.—Execution rather than deportation of "treason agitators," was advocated by Judge C. M. Landis, of Chicago, who branded the Socialists, I. W. W., and kindred organizations as "traitors to the country" in an address before the American Protective League here Sunday night.

Judge Landis reviewed the platforms and activities of red organizations and urged "war to clean up the whole bunch of them."

"What we need is a new definition of treason," Judge Landis said. "Then we can use the side of a barn for those who would destroy our government. We must destroy the would be destroyers."

BLOWN TO ATOMS

Men Killed at Olean, N. Y., When Nitro-Glycerine Explodes

Olean, N. Y., Feb. 3.—Two oil well shooters, Maynard Green, 28, of Richburg, and Harry Sherwin, of Bradford, Pa., were instantly killed near Bolivar yesterday, when sixty quarts of nitro-glycerine they were carrying exploded.

The force of the explosion blew portions of their bodies 200 feet from the accident. It is thought the can dropped when one of them stumbled.

FUEL SHORTAGE IN PARIS

Paris, Feb. 3.—Owing to the extreme shortage of fuel, a decree has just been issued which will render Paris by night darker than at the time of the visits of Gotha planes and the booming of "big Berthas."

All electric arc lamps will be suppressed, while gas lighting will be reduced more than 75 per cent.

PARSNIPS HELD FOR WINE

With Record Crop, Vegetable, Cannot be Purchased

Princeton, W. Va., Feb. 3.—It is no longer possible to purchase parsnips at the grocery stores here, in spite of the fact that the largest parsnip crop in the history of this section was raised last year.

The crop has gone, it is said, to the manufacture of wine. All that is necessary, it is said, is to run them through the cider press to make what is declared to be fine wine.

Parsnips of the hollow crowd sort, the fleshy globe variety and all other varieties were raised in abundance in this county last year.

We collect rents. Carver and Callahan, 127 North Fairfax street. 2-tf.

STABLE BURNED

Render Owner Unconscious by Blow and Lantern Sets Hay Afire, Destroying Six Animals

Petersburg, Feb. 3.—The large frame stables of George H. Beck, of Clinton street, were completely destroyed and the adjoining dairy stables of R. M. Lavelle, were damaged by fire yesterday morning shortly after 6 o'clock, when Mr. Beck was attacked by two white tramps, causing him to drop a lighted lantern in a pile of hay. Four mules and two horses were burned to death in the stables.

According to Mr. Beck, he heard a noise in the stables and investigated. When he opened a door to the stables, two white tramps leaped upon him, and while grappling with one, he was struck over the head from the rear, and rendered unconscious. When he regained his senses, the lighted lantern had set fire to the building.

His stables were completely destroyed and the animals burned to death before an alarm could be sounded. Prompt action by the firemen saved the Lavelle stables from complete destruction and prevented the spread of the flames to near-by buildings.

BOY BAYONETTED

Soldiers Charge Jeering Dublin Crowds—Sinn Feiners Raid Police Station in Capital

London, Feb. 3.—Renewed activity by the British military authorities at Dublin, during which the soldiers charged a crowd and bayonetted a boy, was reported from the Irish capital today.

Army trucks, bearing soldiers passed through the streets of Dublin during the early part of the night. Crowds jeered the troops and the soldiers alighted and made a bayonet charge. It was then that a boy was attacked and stabbed. Later on the soldiers again charged the crowds with fixed bayonets several times.

In retaliation for the widespread raids on Saturday, Sinn Feiners attacked the principal police depot at Dublin and seized a large quantity of arms.

Vigorous demands are being made by the Sinn Feiners for the release of Lord Mayor Kelly of Dublin, and its is expected that he will be liberated this week.

TO GET HINES' ANSWER

Rails Head to Give Brotherhoods Decision on Pay Raise Today

Washington, Feb. 3.—The future of the railroad was largely at stake today, when Director General Hines of the Railroad Administration met with the chiefs of the railroad brotherhoods to give them his final answer on their demands for wage increases totaling several hundred million dollars annually.

If the director general grants increases, it appears that the railroads will return to their private owners with assurance of peaceful labor conditions.

If the wage demands are refused, there promises to be immediate unauthorized strikes, with serious labor troubles after the roads are returned to their private owners.

MEDAL AWARDS PROBE

Daniels Will Air His Side of the Controversy Before Senate Naval Affairs Committee

Washington, Feb. 3.—The Daniels-Sims controversy came to the fore again when Secretary Daniels was called before the Senate Naval Affairs Committee to tell his side of the dispute over medal awards.

Daniels will have an opportunity to reply to the criticisms of Rear Admiral Sims, who said underserving men got medals from the Secretary. He also will have a chance to answer Sims' charges that inefficiency in the department prolonged the war, but his testimony on this point may be reserved until the committee begins its actual investigation of the admirals' allegations. The present hearing is supposed to be confined to medals.

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 3.—Woman suffrage was enacted by the New Jersey senate today by a vote of 18 to 2. The house would have followed suit, but there were not enough members present. The Coles resolution to refer to a referendum all proposed constitutional amendments failed when the house adopted an adverse report rendered by a committee.

INDIANS KILL 17 PERSONS

Attack is in Retaliation for Arrest of Chief for Inhuman Act

Panama, Feb. 3.—San Blas Indians, in a sudden attack on Panama police and the residents of a rubber gathering settlement at Porvenir, about 80 miles to the east of Colon, killed 17 persons and wounded many others, according to advices received here. No whites were involved in the fight.

The Panama government is fitting out an expedition to sail from Colon to restore order. Some of the Indians, it is stated, came from Colombia to participate in the attack.

Reports from Porvenir say the raid was in retaliation for the arrest of the San Blas Chief Quilo last November on the charge of burying his grandson alive.

Other advices declare hostility of the Indians to establishment of a station at Porvenir under Panama rule, resentment against attempts to force the Indians to cease wearing nose rings and the closing of a school conducted by an African woman missionary figured in causing the attack.

QUAKE TUMBLES HOUSES

Violent Shocks Create Panic Among The Inhabitants

Buenos Aires, Feb. 3.—Dispatches from the State of Minas Geraes, Brazil, report that an earthquake Sunday shook down a number of houses in the country district, creating great panic among the inhabitants. The dispatches say that in intensity, the earth shock is without precedent in that region.

Washington, Feb. 3.—A very severe earthquake lasting more than two hours and centered between 3300 and 3,800 miles from Washington was recorded early yesterday on the Georgetown University seismographs. The shocks began at 42 A. M. reached the maximum at about 5 o'clock and ceased at 9.08 o'clock.

Chicago, Feb. 3.—The United States Government seismograph at Chicago University recorded the most pronounced earthquake in months yesterday morning. The shocks, which were still continuing at 8.45 o'clock were heavier even than the recent Mexican upheaval. The first shock was recorded at 5:42 o'clock and the maximum was reached at 7.40.

Cambridge, Mass., Feb. 3.—A record of what appeared to be a double earthquake was shown on the instruments at the Harvard seismographic station yesterday. Professor Jay Backus Woodworth, who is in charge of the station, estimated the scene of the shocks to be about 5000 miles away. The first shock began at 6.30 a. m. and reached the maximum at 7.39. What appeared to be a second earthquake, he said, was subsequently indicated on the instruments, its maximum motion being reached at 8.26.

GIRL STOLE $10,000

Harness Factory Cashier Who Lead Life of Luxury Arrested

Chicago, Feb. 3.—Miss Monda Rose whose double existence as society favorite and harness factory cashier ended with her flight when her books were found to be $10,000 short was arrested yesterday in Winnipeg, Canada, C. H. Newton, chief constable at Winnipeg, notified the police today that he had found the missing girl and that she admitted her identity.

Monda Rose, whose daytime and baptismal name is Rose Schweiburg, has been missing for several days. Investigation of her books at the leather house is said to have disclosed a shortage of $10,000.

Her employers announced yesterday they have received a telegram from the assistant cashier, filed in Winnipeg Canada stating that she was about to be married in Canada.

While police searched for the girl, the leather company caused Monda Rose's $1500 saddle horse, $2,000 automobile and the furnishings of her luxurious apartment to be seized.

Her mother, who works for her living in a factory, told the police today that the girl had gone to work when twelve years old to help support the family.

CRIME AND PROHIBITION

Chicago Expert Declares Shrewder Class of Criminals Are All Water Drinkers

Chicago, Feb. 3.—Henry Barrett Chamberlin, director of the Chicago Crime Commission, astonished the Current Events Class of Evanston Sunday when he stated with not a little emphasis that prohibition would have no effect whatever on crime.

"The shrewder class of criminals," he said, "are water drinkers. They would no more think of drinking liquor than they would of being careless in cracking a safe. Crime in Chicago is commercialized. There is a big organization which conducts crime exactly like a business enterprise. It will take the crime commission six years to make Chicago a safe place to live in.

"One of our methods is to card index all criminals. Then we have a map that shows the home of every crook. Each house that shelters a member of the underworld is indicated by a pin—and you'd be surprised to see how many pins there are in some of the best neighborhoods. The ease with which criminals get out on bond is one evil that should be altered. We should get rid of the bonding system."

Victim of Cleveland Murder Belonged to Burlesque Troupe

Cleveland, Ohio, Feb. 3.—Police today were seeking a man in a navy uniform as the slayer of Frances Altman, 19 years old, a chorus girl of Philadelphia or Paterson, N. J., the fifth murder victim here in four days.

The woman was also known as Mrs. Frances Altman Stockwell. Her body was found yesterday after noon in the snow in a vacant lot and lay unidentified in the County Morgue until this morning. She had been a member of a burlesque company which played here last week. She was last seen alive Saturday night.

KILLED BY A PEA-SHOOTER

London, Feb. 3.—"Shot to death with a pea-shooter" was the coroner's jury verdict investigating the demise of Mrs. Jessie M. Archer. She suffered a "rupture of an aneurism of her aorta" when the vegetable projectile of a schoolboy's artillery struck her in the face.
